The bureau long has used the cheque volume as a sure guide to the economic state of the nation, since it indicates conditions of employment, payroll and industrial and agricultural production.

For January through October, business done by cheque in Edmonton ran at $1,247,041.000 as compared to $1,064,776.000 last year.

Cowtown Says 'Howdy' to Winners of Football's Top Prize

CALGARIANS TURNED OUT by the thousands Wednesday as their Stampede, monarchs of the Canadian football scene, arrived home from Toronto with the Grey Cup in tow. "Welcome Home to Our Grey Cup Champs" read a huge banner spread high above Centre street, hard by the CPR station. Under the streamer and for blocks along Centre street and Eighth avenue the residents of Cowtown packed themselves in to say a big "howdy" to Coach Les Lear's great gang. It took many police, aided and abetted by Boy Scout and other organizations, to keep the huge throng in check. (See full page of pictures on Page 8.)

PARADE OFFICIALS didn't forget the high school kids when making plans for the monster celebration. Once the Grey Cup, symbol of Canadian grid supremacy, had been mounted on a gaily bedecked jeep, Hazel Proctor and Jean Hutton were given places of vantage on the carrier to act as a guard of honor.

Plenty of Headaches Ahead For Celebrating Calgarians

By Stan Moher
Edmonton Bulletin Sports Editor

CALGARY, Dec. 2.—Residents of this southern Alberta centre will be experiencing the biggest emotional headache in their history for the next few days, judging by the scope of the merrymaking that attended Wednesday's home-coming of the victorious Stampede.

It took under two hours for the stay-at-homes to greet the returning champions at the station, parade them around a mile of city streets and back to the station, where Coach Les Lear, team executive and players were introduced to the thousands milling about a stand carefully erected for the occasion.

They kept going. However, regardless of how weary the Stampede and those supporters who had accompanied them to Toronto were it was evident that many of those who had a hand in rolling out the welcome mat planned to make a day of it in that they were already underway and what was there to lose?

Offices, stores and other places of business, except possibly eating establishments and theatres, were closed up tight from 12 noon on Friday through the northern half, then spreading throughout the region by midnight and clearing throughout the region tomorrow afternoon. Winds west 15 becoming north 20 this evening. Colder tomorrow. Low tonight at Edmonton 5 above with temperatures remaining steady near 5 above tomorrow.

Accident Occurs In North Edmonton

A Canadian National Railway switchman was instantly killed at 4:30 a.m. this morning when run over and mangled by a coboose near 96 street and 125 avenue.

Dead is Waide Ginter, 27, of 10432 123 street.

His mangled body was found lying beside the tracks near the Swift Canadian packing plant, after a train crew spotting cars in the company spur had shouted a string of cars south into the spur and then followed the cars in to couple.

WORKING WITH CREW

Ginter is believed to have been working with the train crew spotting cars at the time of the accident.

The body was discovered by Thomas W. Foran of 12077 122 street, switchman in charge of the crew.

Smith's ambulance was called but the body was not removed until Dr. M. M. Cantor, acting provincial coroner, arrived.

He pronounced the man dead and authorized the removal of the body to Howard and Melville's funeral home.

Ginter is the third fatality in Edmonton involving railway trains in less than one and one half months.

A Beaumont woman was instantly killed in a desperate leap from a stalled auto on the main side crossing Oct. 19, while an east Edmonton farmer, Bertie E. H. Hord, died when his car struck a train at another south side crossing Nov. 22.

WAS OVERSEAS YET

Ginter, who was born in Edmonton, served overseas with the Canadian Army and had been working as a CNR switchman for the past six months.

He is survived at home in Edmonton by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ginter and a brother, Roy, as well as a six-year-old son, Roy.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Howard and Melville.

Inquest will be opened with the identification of the body today at Howard and Melville funeral parlors.

Legal Narcotic Traffic Being Cut

Increasing Convictions Show Results Obtained

By D'Arcy O'Donnell

OTTAWA, Dec. 2.—(CP)—Police forces are making it more and more difficult for the health department says, for the fiscal year ended last March, the department adds that the increasing number of convictions on narcotics charges is proof of the effectiveness of the police forces fight against the drug smuggler, peddler and addict.

In a report covering activities for the fiscal year ended last March, the department adds that the increasing number of convictions on narcotics charges is proof of the effectiveness of the police forces fight against the drug smuggler, peddler and addict.

During the judicial year ended Sept. 30, 1947, there were 262 convictions under the opium and narcotic act compared with 215 in 1946. Of the total convictions, 241 were for illegal possession.

Without mentioning names, the report says professional people convicted during the year included four physicians, two veterinary surgeons and one druggist.

In all but one of the 262 cases prior or penitentiary terms were imposed.

During 1947, a total of 13 Chinese and two English persons who had been convicted of narcotics offences and had served sentences, were deported. This increased to 1,248 the total number of persons reported in the last 25 years under the opium and narcotic act.

"It is interesting to note that Canada remains comparatively free from problems related to illicit uses of marijuana and, in fact, no evidence of marijuana being used for illegal purposes was reported in 1947," adds the report.

"Illicit use of narcotics in relation to race-track activities remains a very significant problem in Canada. This is due to the fact that saliva tests are carried out at all leading race tracks by experienced veterinarians who, in turn, are assisted by members of the RCMP."

BIG OPIUM SEIZURE
Reviewing some of the cases handled during the year, the report shows that one of the biggest opium seizures on the west coast in recent years was made in October, 1947.

As a result of information from a dockyard worker, newspaper parcels containing 315 pounds of opium were discovered at the base of crates aboard a tramp steamer from the Orient, in a Vancouver dock for repairs. The narcotics were believed to have been smuggled aboard, unknown to ship's officers, while the vessel was at Indian ports.

"If they ever doubted the value of drugs in the underworld, two Toronto police officials were given proof of it when, seizing a suspicious character with what was later shown to be a large quantity of heroin they reported they were offered a bribe of $10,000 to forget 'it,' the report says."

native thought the outpouring extended anything previous, even including the Royal visit of 1929 and the homecoming of the hockey Stumpers in the spring of 1946 after they had won the Allan cup for the first time in Calgary history.

NOISIEST AT STATION
Most of the noisemaking went on at the station, following the parade through the streets. As the parade wound its way along the greetings were along restrained lines. Many of the onlookers had been standing for close to two hours, trying to make certain of vantage points from which to watch.

"Not that everyone in Calgary, went overboard about the exploits of Les Lear and his Cowboy griders. There was the recipient at one of the hospitals, for instance, 'What's all the fuss about?' pretty well explained her attitude toward photographers keen to get permission to take a 'shot' of Paul Lowe's baby son, born last week-end. Obviously she was unimpressed."

Conscription In Canada Is Not Being Considered

OTTAWA, Dec. 2.—(CP)—Canada is not considering peacetime conscription, Defence Minister Clineau said today. He was commenting on reports that Canada's obligations under the North Atlantic Security pact might make it necessary for the government to give renewed consideration to some form of compulsory service.

At the same time, an external affairs department source said: "Consideration is being given to a south Pacific regional defence pact, similar to that being prepared for the North Atlantic region, but Canada is not liable to be a participant."

It will be up to parliament to decide whether Canada should or should not give commitment to the pact, which would include nations that will go to war immediately if one of them is attacked.

There is a possibility that the commitment to an defence pact from the pact may allow a cut in overall defence costs of the seven powers, now running around $20,000,000,000 a year.

North Work Challenge To Canon Montgomery

On the threshold of a "great work," Canon C. R. Montgomery, Anglican churchman and brother of the famous "Monty," is hesitant to express his attitude towards his new work as Bishop of Alaska.

"There's a great work to be done in Northern Canada; you might say that," Mrs. Montgomery and I are looking forward to it, but as far as our hopes for the future, and the problems to be met there, we cannot say until we reach Alaska," he said.

The Canon reached Edmonton last Wednesday on the second last lap of his 10,000-mile journey from his last ministerial post at Lady-smith, South Africa, to his new position at Alaska.

He will address a public meeting at All Saints Cathedral tonight at 8 o'clock and will leave early tomorrow by plane for the North.

"I am pleased to learn that the home we are going to will be every bit as modern as those in Edmonton—electric lights, modern heating—in a completely civilized country," the Canon told The Bulletin today.

Prior to his work as vicar of Ladysmith, Canon Montgomery was chaplain of a hospital ship during World War Two.

His path crossed but rarely that of his famous brother, Viscount Montgomery, wartime commander of the British 8th Army.

"I saw Bernard a year ago in South Africa, but I had been some time since I had seen him previously, and when our meeting was a short one."

Pensioners Plan Meeting Monday

Alberta Pensioners' Society will hold a public meeting Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the 1007 Hall, 101 street.

Features of the meeting will be the election of officers, board of directors and an address by Edward C. Fisher on the progress of the movement.

There will be motion pictures directed by representatives of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce and community singing led by the orchestra.

Military Parade

Pickup and parade of 44 HIA soldiers and 56 LAD, RCMP will be held on usual Friday.

Muster parade will be held on Friday Dec. 10. This is a compulsory parade for pay purposes.

Egg Price Cut Seen

In a world of rising prices, eggs continue their downward trend.

In Edmonton, shelled eggs will be down another four cents a dozen, some stores report. The change is expected to be in effect some time this weekend.

New wholesale prices for Grade A large are expected to be 44 cents a dozen, while Grade A medium will be 42 cents. This will bring the consumer price down to between 38 and 40 cents a dozen.

Prices have already taken a nine-cent drop in Vancouver, the retail price to 61 cents.

Egg prices vary across Canada, being lowest in the East and rising gradually across the Dominion until they reach a peak in Vancouver.

Peeping Tom Dodges Lead; Outruns Police

A peeping Tom took big chances from a police bullet and a 25-foot trap set for him across the street, but managed to outrun two constables and escape.

Constable A. T. Ward and T. R. Jones were called to the 1015 Hotel, 1015 street, at 10:55 p.m. where a man was reported on the roof of the adjoining Edmonton Hotel and Glass Co. building. The man was said to be looking through windows of a rooming house across the street.

As the police officers approached, the man leaped off the roof to the street and started to run.

Ward and Jones set out in pursuit and commanded the fleeing man to halt.

"He only ran the faster," Const. Ward reported.

Ward then fired one warning shot from his revolver but the man made good his escape.

Official opening of the newly-constructed community league rink will be held on Friday, Dec. 17 at 8 p.m.

$21,996 POURED INTO CITY PARKING METERS

Revenue from parking meters since inception August 16 to November 30 totals $21,996.00.

During November motorists paid $7,173.40 into the meters for parking facilities on downtown streets.

Revenue during October amounted to $6,066; in September, $5,885, and during the August period, $2,932.20.

When meters and installation costs have been paid, revenue from the meters will be placed in a reserve account for purchase of property to provide off-street parking.

It was announced the city has not yet put up street signs, one of the last remaining obstacles standing in the way of postal carrier service to the district. It is expected that this will be carried out shortly.

Ontario postal carriers are demanding compensation for the increased number of mail deliveries made by the street.

All requirements of street graving, demanded by Postmaster General Bennett as a prerequisite for postal carrier service, are being met.

Bishop Outfaces Varsity Doubters

No Atheists and Only Few Agnostics Are Uncovered

No atheists and only a few agnostics who decline to label themselves as such are included in University of Alberta student body, challenged recently to debate Christian beliefs with a high ranking Anglican clergyman.

That is the opinion of Bishop Stephen Neill, of Geneva, secretary to the Archbishop of Canterbury.

On LECTURE TOUR Bishop Neill reached Edmonton last week in the course of a Canada-wide lecture tour before university students sponsored by the University of Alberta.

He invited students here to debate Christian principles with him. "During my tour I lectured to hundreds of students, and met a great many in personal interviews," the bishop told The Bulletin today.

None of the students revealed himself as an atheist, the bishop said.

Nor did any identify themselves as agnostics, "but I knew from the Eastern United States."

These, in common with other students he interviewed, showed a "sincere desire to search after the truth."

"I believe they appreciated placing their hands before me and having the Christian truths explained, for they are most hesitant to believe anything they fail to understand or which cannot be proved to their satisfaction."

Bishop Neill described his visit here as a "most happy time, and certainly successful in the number of students interviewed and influenced."

The bishop will leave today for the Eastern United States.

LAW IS BINDING Parents Have 1st Obligation In Education

Primary obligation for the education of children rests with parents, rather than with teachers, Archbishop A. H. MacDonald told a meeting of St. Andrew's Home and School Association Wednesday.

"No other law is so binding," he said, as he deplored a modern tendency for parents to evade the task of ensuring that their children have a basic education.

His Grace was speaking at a special concert held in St. Andrew's school at which George Small and James Hinton were presented with gold medals for attaining honours standards in their grade 9 examinations last June.

Medals were authorized and donated by the home and school association.

Fight Against VD Making Progress

Reporting of Cases Still Inadequate Says Health Dept.

OTTAWA, Dec. 2.—(CP)—Figures released by the health department indicate that some progress is being made in the fight against venereal disease in Canada.

In its report for the 1947-48 fiscal year, the department said the number of venereal disease cases reported by provincial health departments to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics dropped from 41,350 in 1946 to 33,476 last year.

However, the department warned that in considering the figures it should be borne in mind that there are strong reasons to suspect the reporting of venereal diseases, particularly gonorrhoea, is inadequate.

BREAKDOWN OF CASES

Following is a breakdown of the syphilis and gonorrhoea cases reported by the provincial health departments to the statistics bureau, with 1946 figures in brackets:

Province	Syphilis	Gonorrhoea
P. E. I.	1,000 (1,000)	1,000 (1,000)
N. Scotia.	523 (688)	818 (971)
Quebec	2,306 (2,306)	2,306 (2,306)
Ontario	3,280 (4,877)	4,084 (7,284)
Manitoba	808 (808)	808 (808)
Saskatchewan	400 (1,043)	1,278 (1,214)
Alberta	472 (480)	1,237 (1,242)
B. C.	1,715 (1,715)	4,038 (4,038)
Canada	11,827 (13,217)	19,484 (26,289)

The report showed that during the year, the department distributed $168,750 among the provinces to assist them in their fight against the disease. Another $50,000 was distributed on a per capita basis to the provinces for required and approved medication for the treatment of venereal diseases. More than $20,000 was spent by the department on educational material and other information activities.

REVIEW SERVICES
"With the object of providing complete and accurate information regarding discharged service personnel who would be residing in the various provinces, and thus assisting to the best of one's ability, to the future health and well-being of such personnel would be safeguarded, the department undertook to review the syphilis records of army personnel, following which naval and air force documents would similarly be considered."

"The procedure involved necessitates the examination and condensation of all available data, which is placed upon a permanent record card, by comparison with earlier correspondence with provincial health departments, the adequacy of information previously provided is determined. This is supplemented as deemed advisable."

Blood Gives New Clue To Arthritis Medicine

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Human blood is giving new clues to a possible medicine for arthritis, described to the American Medical Association here.

The blood comes from pregnant women and from persons with jaundice. Something, still unidentified, in both kinds of blood is known to relieve some cases of arthritis. The search for the specific substance supposed to be responsible extract the apparent remedy from blood.

"We are looking," he said, "for a quick-acting, effective remedy. The evidence in pregnant women comes from two facts. Women with severe arthritis sometimes get nearly well during the pregnant months. Transfusions of blood from such women occasionally has benefited arthritis patients of both sexes. Jaundice also has had occasional good effects on arthritis, but neither pregnancy nor jaundice has been a permanent cure. Dr. Rosenberg said the results indicate there may be in both kinds of blood a "common denominator," which is some sort of chemical compound manufactured by the body.

Mrs. Martin Moeen was the discussion leader and the consensus of opinion arising out of the two-hour discussion was that the daily paper fulfills its purpose by publishing the daily news as it occurs in not too sensational a manner.

In the Golden Glow Forum district there are three local weeklies, the Miller Bulletin, the Leading Representative and the Wetaskiwin Times. The latter has received praise for its agricultural coverage and the Forum assumed some responsibility by not supporting local papers better in the matter of furnishing news.

Grey Cup Winners Come Home to Tumult

Welcome.

HAPPIEST YOUNG LADY of the thousands on hand to pay homage to the Stamps was Irene Bjornebo. When Coach Les Lear tossed his famous sombrero into the crowd the wide-awake miss promptly retrieved the prize souvenir.

AS WAS TO BE EXPECTED when Coach Lear climbed down from the Stampeder special at the CPR station, Calgary, Wednesday afternoon he had the coveted Grey Cup tucked snugly in his arms. The former professional with Cleveland, Los Angeles and other teams made a triumphal jaunt along the platform to his waiting car, with dozens of well-wishers reaching for his hand or trying to get a close up of the trophy.

SEASON LONG ACE of the new Canadian champions was quarterback Keith Spait, the Californian with the strong right arm. The quiet-going pass toser was all smiles as Stamps arrived home. It's understood he plans to take up residence in Calgary.

PAUL ROBESON? Not at all. This is "Chuck" Anderson, the big centre generally acclaimed as the outstanding performer as Stamps bopped Ottawa 12-7 for the Grey Cup. Born in Alabama, the big fellow played for Ohio State for several years.

"HOW SMALL CAN A BABY BE?" ... seems to be the reaction of Paul Rowe, demon line plunger of the Calgarians who had first look at his new son not long after the champs arrived home Wednesday. Seemingly

Mrs. Rowe isn't making any excuses. Singularly enough Paul and his wife have another son, two years of age, whose birthday falls on the same date as that of the little newcomer.

WOODROW WILSON (Woody) STRODE is easily one of the most popular gridders ever to perform for a Calgary team. The big Negro end cut quite a figure toggled out as he was in full western regalia as betis a Stampeder.

for one of the loudest ovations as their open job moved along in the early stages of the parade. Brook has been an indefatigable worker in the Stampeder cause.

"THE DEAD END KIDS", as they have been named, were in great form as they hit the station Wednesday. It was no accident that the four Stamp imports from Vancouver were hustled into the same car for the trip around downtown Calgary. Here Pe's 'Thodo' hat gets all the word of it as, from left, Rod Pantaga, Jim Mitchener and Bud Gyles give it a Pier 69 going over.

Musial NL's Most Valuable

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Stan Musial, the team St. Louis Cardinal slugger who just missed a clean sweep of every National League batting honor, today was named the circuit's most valuable player by a wide margin.

REMARKABLE SEASON

Having batted .376, led with 133 runs, 230 hits, 121 runs batted in, 46 doubles and 35 triples, Musial fell short of a perfect score by one home run in a most remarkable season. He hit .29 out of the park but Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh and Johnny Mize of New York each smashed 46.

As was the case in the American league where Cleveland's Lou Boudreau was an easy winner, there was little question about Musial's election in the vote conducted by the Baseball Writers association. The first place vote of a 24-man committee was 18 for Musial, five for Boston's Johnny Sain, and one for Boston's fine rookie, Al Dark.

LANDIS PLAQUE

Actually the award, which also carried with it baseball's official annual Kenesaw Mountain Landis Plaque, is decided on a point basis. Each first place ballplayer counts 14, each second counts nine and so on down to one point for a 16th place vote.

On a point basis, Musial had 203 for an 80-point margin over Kiner, who had 223. Dark scored 174. There were only three with 100 or more points.

Boxing Promoters Get Together

LONDON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The biggest boxing promoters of Europe and the United States have reached and broadened their agreement providing for an exchange of fighters.

Jack Solomons of London, czar of European boxing, announced he had signed a contract with Mike Jacobs' Twentieth Century Sportscap of New York.

The only important new clause in the agreement, which has been working since 1946, is that European champions will be given more world title fights, Solomons reported.

Take the case of Ray Robinson, the world welterweight champion said Solomons. "If Ray cannot make the weight to defend his crown, then a European and an American should fight for the vacant title. It must not be two Americans."

Red Ruffing Now Minor Manager

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Charles (Red) Ruffing, once the pride of the New York Yankees pitching staff, will make his debut as a baseball manager next season at Mackay, Mich., in the American Central league.

Ruffing with a record league record of 273 victories and 234 defeats, last summer conducted a series of baseball schools and try out camps.

Havana Wants Triple-A Team

HAVANA, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Havana wants to berth in the American International baseball league.

With the population almost hitting the million mark, the city has daily baseball attendance of over 15,000. Latin-American, most baseball-minded capital be lieves it is sufficiently fit to make the big leagues now in the leagues are Toronto, Montreal, Newark, Jersey City, Rochester, Syracuse, Buffalo and Baltimore.

The triple-A idea, launched by Joe (Papa) Cambria, has gripped the fans and the whole town is talking about the possibility of seeing a strong, fast-playing Havana team in the international league.

Cambria, basist ball scout in Latin America, represents Washington Senators of the American league and is general manager of Havana Cuban, three-time champions of the Florida International league, now a class-B league.

Late Five-Goal Burst Gives Boston 5-1 Win

BOSTON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Boston Bruins bunched all of their scoring in the last 15 minutes of play to protect their National Hockey league lead with a 5-1 victory over Chicago Black Hawks last night before a capacity crowd of 13,000.

That furious burst was set off by Jim Conacher's tally for the Bruins which more than 44 minutes of fast but scoreless action. Conacher's goal ended the Bruins to a charged degree but they faltered there in two minutes, 28 seconds, Kenny Smith put the Bruins on even terms with a counter about a minute after Chicago broke the scoreless deadlock.

RAPID-FIRE GOALS

Thereseau Johnny Pelton and Eddie Harrison scored goals a little more than a minute apart to clinch the Bruins' 11th victory in their BONE SPUR in his heel bothered Joltin' Joe DiMaggio, great New York Yankee center fielder, all last season. Here he leaves hospital after having another spur removed from heel.

A MAN WITH COURAGE is Philadelphia Athletics' pitcher, Lou Brissie. Brissie had leg shattered in war, but still manages to fool batters despite handicap. Here, in off season, he gets his bad leg examined to find out why the limb bothered him during final weeks of last season. Nurse Virginia Strange applies bandage in Philadelphia.

Stamps Top Leafs On Hunter's Goal

LETHBRIDGE, Dec. 2.—(CP)—A pair of third-period goals Wednesday night gave Calgary Stampede a 3-2 decision over Lethbridge Maple Leafs in a Western Canada Hockey league tilt played here.

Maxwell opened scoring in the first period when he beat Dany McManis. In the second period, smart-goaling, terrific speed and smartly-executed play produced only one goal, that by Hall at 10:06, to put Lethbridge ahead 1-0.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—(AP)—A veteran and an up-and-coming youngster Wednesday stole the show at Tanforan race track.

Johnny Longden, who is rolling along toward his third United States riding championship and a modern American record for total victories in one season, and 18-year-old apprentice Gordon Gilson of Windsor, N.C., both scored triples on the eight-race program.

It was the second day in succession that Longden has bootied home three winners. The three boosted his 1948 total to 307, only nine victories shy of his record of 310.

Fliers Regain Form; Wallop Regina 8-3

Merluk Sparks Curriemen Attack with Four Points

REGINA, Dec. 2.—(CP)—Edmonton Flyers turned in a grade "A" performance Wednesday night to down the league-leading Regina Caps 8-3 in a Western Canada Hockey league fixture before more than 5,000 spectators.

It was one of the best performances of the season by the Dominion champion Flyers, who have had their ups and downs this season. Flyers really caught fire in the second and third periods, splitting their goal output between the two sessions.

Three players had "deuces" for Flyers—Ming Merluk, Alex Pringle and Andy Cluechok. Edmonton's other goals were scored by Mory Rimstead and Colin Kilburn. Scorers for Regina were three former National Hockey leaguers—Vic Myles, Sweeney Schirring and Mel Hill. Merluk also garnered two assists.

BENTLEY KEPT HOPPING: Goals Keith Woodall of Flyers had a comparatively easy time of it in the nets throughout the contest while Ben Bentley, the netminder for Caps, had to "keep it" time and time again. Defence lapses put a heavy burden on Bentley who had Flyers packed on his doorstep all through the game.

Only in the opening period did Caps hold their own at both goals turned in brilliant saves by Gordie Watt, Doug Lane and Pup Young—that gave Caps a great chance. But the Ben Caps could not score by Myles on a long shot and Flyers never let the opposition get back into contention after that.

Cluechok came through with the most piece of rapid scoring on his tally. He counted twice in 20 seconds in the first period. Merluk and Bud MacPherson caught assists on both scores.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Formation of a new sports and entertainment trust to televise and promote the United States and carry them to the television audience was announced Wednesday by the Tournament of Champions.

Altogether the enterprise are Columbia Broadcasting System, the Music Corporation of America, the United Syndicates Incorporated and George Klutz, president of the Tournament of Champions.

Klutz will remain as president. The company announced it shortly will enter the football, hockey and tennis fields and that it will seek team franchises in all branches of professional sports.

It plans the announcement said, to promote in "all large cities, national and international."

The Tournament of Champions was formed last year to promote boxing bouts. It staged, among others, the middleweight championship bout at Jersey City in which Marcel Cerdan of France won the world title from Tony Zale.

Merluk Sparks Curriemen Attack with Four Points

REGINA, Dec. 2.—(CP)—Edmonton Flyers turned in a grade "A" performance Wednesday night to down the league-leading Regina Caps 8-3 in a Western Canada Hockey league fixture before more than 5,000 spectators.

It was one of the best performances of the season by the Dominion champion Flyers, who have had their ups and downs this season. Flyers really caught fire in the second and third periods, splitting their goal output between the two sessions.

Three players had "deuces" for Flyers—Ming Merluk, Alex Pringle and Andy Cluechok. Edmonton's other goals were scored by Mory Rimstead and Colin Kilburn. Scorers for Regina were three former National Hockey leaguers—Vic Myles, Sweeney Schirring and Mel Hill. Merluk also garnered two assists.

BENTLEY KEPT HOPPING: Goals Keith Woodall of Flyers had a comparatively easy time of it in the nets throughout the contest while Ben Bentley, the netminder for Caps, had to "keep it" time and time again. Defence lapses put a heavy burden on Bentley who had Flyers packed on his doorstep all through the game.

Only in the opening period did Caps hold their own at both goals turned in brilliant saves by Gordie Watt, Doug Lane and Pup Young—that gave Caps a great chance. But the Ben Caps could not score by Myles on a long shot and Flyers never let the opposition get back into contention after that.

Cluechok came through with the most piece of rapid scoring on his tally. He counted twice in 20 seconds in the first period. Merluk and Bud MacPherson caught assists on both scores.

MacKenzie will remain as president. The company announced it shortly will enter the football, hockey and tennis fields and that it will seek team franchises in all branches of professional sports.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Practical Presents
Prove Popularity

By Ben Thrift

With that nasty old problem of the high cost of living tearing at us day in and day out we have more than a bit of trouble figuring out how to stretch the Christmas money.

For one thing, shopkeepers declare there is a greater gross sale of "practical presents" than ever before. High-priced luxury items fall way behind the useful home appliance class.

Home furnishings are so dreaded expensive, as every one of you knows, that Mom would go into positive ecstasies if she gave her a pretty boudoir chair. And there are many, many fine chairs, lounges and gaily upholstered chairs available at prices ranging from $7.50 right on up to the hundreds.

A pretty blue quilted satin affair for the blonde, feminine frivolity of "boudoir" for $39.50. If Papa-deeds is inclined.

One sweet 'n' lovin' hubby just popped into an apt. shop and bought a beautiful point picture for the "little woman."

I know one wife who'll be pleased as punch to see Santa Claus coming down that chimney.

Horror! I don't mind people commenting on my "pleasantly plumpish" form. I don't mind the fact that my weight has been carried away to a 25-inch effort.

But I certainly object to a shop apt saying: We have a balloon that will blow up to your size. This may soon be the case.

Local sewing shops or the sewing department of your favorite store will soon have an infatigable dress form that can be shaped into a near replica of your own figure.

Next think. When you weren't busy sewing the children could be playing with the balloon. . . or is that such a clever idea?

One of the most practical (and a self-indulgent) well and in-expensive presents I can lay my hands on is a set of work place mats.

Painted with colorful Mexican figures, the mats are easily cleaned with a damp cloth and are sold at a neat price for a mere $1.95.

A recent letter highlights lack of interest in preparation, and therefore the danger to good nutrition, in the woman who lives alone.

This writer says, "I wish someone would work out a diet list for the person who lives alone and doesn't want to do much cooking and doesn't eat lunch unless she carries something from home."

It is not going to work out today but I do hope to

Frozen foods are a nutritional boon in a menu for one, which is often subject to neglect.

WHY GROW OLD
Live-Alone Women
Apt To Skip Meals

By Josephine Lowman

Perhaps the woman who is most apt to be poorly nourished is the one who lives alone. She is without the demands made upon the heart and mind of the woman who is interested in building strong bodies for her children or she also lacks the stimulation of appreciation in others for well-planned, attractive meals and is, therefore, very likely to neglect herself in the matter of a well-balanced diet.

Many women who live alone also work, and they are likely to skip or almost anything which is found in the kitchen because the effort of preparing a meal does not seem worthwhile for one person and they haven't much time anyway.

Yet planning for oneself can be very easy, nutritious and inexpensive. A pound of butter and a dozen eggs last a long time, a box of frozen vegetables can be used for several meals and one bottle of milk a day is sufficient even when the cream is taken off the top of the bottle for cereals and coffee.

The simplest plan for avoiding cooking at home would be to prepare your breakfast at home. It takes only a few minutes to push an egg, fix toast and coffee and eat your fruit juice.

For your meal and vegetables downstairs and make your supper of green salads, tomatoes, cheese, canned soup, milk and fresh fruits. However if this is too expensive or your job makes the time element involved at noon too great, you can follow another plan.

When you first arrive at home after work, turn the oven on, put a potato in to bake and take your exercises. I hope, or at least your bath and rest. After 45 minutes or an hour, turn the oven off, broil a slice of liver or a steak, and cut some lettuce and add some prepared dressing, while some green frozen vegetable cooks in a very short time you will have a nutritious meal.

It is not going to work out today but I do hope to

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Children Must Adjust
To Altered Surroundings

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Children have to adjust to change so as to give them a balanced estimate of living. Even when actual moving and change are impossible, it is well to move the position of a child's bed, change the furniture occasionally, say to accustom him to feel secure even in altered surroundings.

Mrs. R. C. G. has been living for two years with her parents and her boy has had to sleep in their bedroom. "Recently we moved into our own home," she writes, "and now we each have a bedroom with a bath between. We put his bed in the room the first few days until he was at home in the house. Now we wish to move him in his own room. How shall we do this? He will be two years old next month. Answer as soon as possible as I wish to make this move."

I should like to inspire the child in an interest in his own bath between. We put his bed in the room the first few days until he was at home in the house. Now we wish to move him in his own room. How shall we do this? He will be two years old next month. Answer as soon as possible as I wish to make this move."

It should be to inspire the child in an interest in his own bath between. We put his bed in the room the first few days until he was at home in the house. Now we wish to move him in his own room. How shall we do this? He will be two years old next month. Answer as soon as possible as I wish to make this move."

Talk about the day when he will have his bed in his own room and sleep there. Tell him how you will take it apart and he will help to carry it there. Repeat the story with all the drama with which you would tell a fairy story that is about to come true.

If he gets used to his room and plays happily in it, he will not be so apt to demur when the bed is brought there. Do this first for his nap, don't let the first sleep in it be at night. Then by night he should be used to the new surroundings.

Give him a new toy the night you move him to bed in the new place. Tell him a story, sing to him, make the going to bed ritual a reassuring one and then he should settle down, sure that he will be happy in this new spot.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Getting Right Mate
Only Matter of Taste

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you believe it possible for a happy marriage to be made if the wife is 15 years her husband's senior? At what age period would such a marriage be most likely to be successful?

Would it be when a husband is 32 and the wife 49, or when the husband is 30 and the wife 45? What are the qualities to make such a marriage a success?

ANSWER: Practically anything can happen in marriage for, as an old friend of mine used to say, "You can't tell where your love falls."

All of us have known marriages that seemed marvellous for the divorce court that were glorious successes, and we have seen other marriages that we would have sworn were made in heaven turn out to have been made in hell.

So there we are, matrimonially speaking, all at sea, no guide, no pointer, no way whatever is going to turn out. For to every rule laid down for picking out a husband or wife there are a hundred exceptions.

And, after all, getting the right husband or wife is more a matter of taste than judgment.

Of course we are all traditional, all sold to the theory that the same time is youth and we take a lot of trivia about boys and girls, marriage and growing up together and developing the value of our habits, but it is just luck when the young couple develop along the same lines, as is proven by the number of youthful marriages that go on in the world.

On the other hand, the middle-aged marriages are generally successful, because men and women know no compromise. They know how to adjust themselves to their mates and you seldom hear of them getting divorces.

This one of the earliest matrimonial divorces is mentioned in several books of the Bible.

Eleanor Jones Becomes Bride At Chapel

St. Stephen's College Chapel was the scene of a pretty wedding recently when Eleanor Christina, daughter of E. Jones of Edmonton, became the bride of Chester Arthur Parson, son of Mr. E. Stagg, also of Edmonton. Rev. T. Edgar Roberts performed the double ring ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was dressed in a gown of white satin. The full skirt of her dress featured a bustle back, and the fitted bodice had full, full sleeves. Her floor length veil was held in place with a handsome bouquet of white mums and red roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Rita Oprekuch, wore a frock of pink and white, styled with a high bodice and a full skirt with ruffled hemline. Her chapel veil was of matching pink, and she carried a colonial bouquet of daffodils and pink carnations.

John Stagg, attended his step-brother, as best man, and Norman Ross, brother of the bride, ushered the bride.

German Girls Reverse Custom Of Courting

REGENSBURG, Germany, Dec. 2.—(AP)—They call it "feinsten" (through the window) in colloquial Bavarian dialect, and it's a Caprice Bavarian way of courting the lady of your heart.

Bavarians describe it as a night-time "sneaker" visit of the lover, who frequently uses a ladder to climb through the window into his maiden's chamber.

There are people in Bavaria who believe they are "sneakers." They say the custom is "rude and immoral," but the younger folk pay little attention to men's clothing when they visit their girlfriends.

Recently, three Bavarian maidens caused quite a commotion by reversing their traditional part. They assumed the role of the "sneakers" in an attempt to visit the men of their choice.

It happened at Michael Dork, deep in the Bavarian forest. Three persons dressed in men's clothing were caught "feinsten" at the window of a farmer's quiet bedroom and were mistaken for burglars.

Their noisy escape aroused some villagers at the scene of the "sneaking." The alarm was spread, and the three were pursued. Run to earth and captured, the suspected burglars turned out to be the daughters of two village farmers and the innkeeper.

They explained that all of them were in love with the farmer's son. They thought they would not be disturbed by the men's clothing in the traditional fashion. In planning the escape, however, they did not consider that male visitors at a daughter's farm house at night would arouse immediate suspicion.

The newspapers in reporting the story speculated that the reversal in the old custom was one result of the post-war shortage of men in Germany.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Long of Edmonton and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Finch of Opal.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was chosen with a full skirt, long sleeves, fitted bodice and full, billowing train.

Christmas Dainties Fill Hostess' Bill

Small Cakes, Cookies and Pastries Must for Holiday Season Entertaining

By Jane Scott

Lots and lots of sweet things are always in order at Christmas time.

Besides all the mince pies, fruit cakes and plum pudding, every hostess needs to have a supply of little tea cakes and dainty cookies to serve when friends and acquaintances drop in.

This Yuletide season brings an abundance of the ingredients necessary to whip up these goodies. Office mss. Mrs. Thrifty has scouted out lots of candied cherries and pineapple, nuts and citron and other things that have been in vogue for many years.

No—if you're looking for some thing at Christmas to make for either adult or children's parties, you won't want to miss the Christmas mince or mince cookies. They're just what the season order!

SUGAR COOKIE STARS

2½ cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup butter or other shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and stir again.

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, creaming until light. Add eggs and beat well. Add vanilla. Add flour, in small amounts, mixing well after each. Chill. Roll ¼ inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with floured cookie cutter in star shape.

Decorate, using colored sugars or candies. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (350 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

CHRISTMAS TREE COOKIES

2½ cups sifted cake flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup butter or other shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten, 3 ounces unsweetened chocolate, melted.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and vanilla. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, creaming until light. Add eggs and chocolate and beat well. Add flour in small amounts. Chill. Roll ¼ inch thick on slightly floured board. Cut with floured cookie cutter in Christmas tree shape.

Place on ungreased baking sheet. Brush with clear meringue. Bake in hot oven (350 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

Decorate, using colored sugars, candies or coconut. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

TUTTI-FRUTTI COOKIES

1½ cups chopped maraschino cherries, 1 cup chopped candied pineapple, 2 tablespoons chopped candied orange peel, 2½ tablespoons rum extract, 1½ cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup butter or other shortening, 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 1 cup chopped walnuts, 1 cup milk.

Combine cherries, pineapple, orange peel and walnuts together. Let stand in lightly covered 30-35 quart, stirring fruit occasionally to distribute flavoring.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and spices, and stir together three times.

Cream butter thoroughly, and add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy.

Add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after each.

Then add fruit mixture, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth.

Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

Decorate, using colored sugars or candies. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (350 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

One cup sifted cake flour, 1½ cups sifted sugar, 1½ cups egg whites, 1½ cups cream, 1½ cups cream of tartar, 1½ cups vanilla, 1½ cups almond extract, seven-minute frosting, 1½ cups shredded coconut.

Sift flour once, measure, add 1 cup of the sugar and sift together four times. Beat egg whites and salt with flat wire whisk or rotary egg beater until foamy.

Sprinkle in cream of tartar and continue beating until eggs are stiff enough to hold up in soft peaks, but are still moist and glossy.

Add remaining sugar in four additions by sprinkling 4 tablespoons at a time over egg whites and beating 25 strokes or more.

Add frosting, beat 10 strokes or more. Sift about 1½ of the flour over mixture. With flat wire whisk, mix large spoon, fold in flour lightly, turning bowl gradually.

This takes 15 complete foldovers, strokes for each of the four additions. Turn into ungreased 10-12 quart.

Sizzling Sausages For Wake-Up Breakfast

A "wake-up" breakfast plays a great big part in the success of your day.

And what could be finer than breakfast of hot coffee, toast and sizzling sausages?

December is one of the busiest months of the year for man, woman and child... a wake-up-and-live breakfast is surely a must.

Sausage is a nice, homogenous kind of food. Makes you think of crisp mornings in the country with coffee bubbling in the pot and pancakes browning in the griddle.

For a "wake-up" breakfast that will rouse appetites in the city, too, and provide energy for a busy day, try sausage links served on French toast which has been fried in a waffle iron or pan fried in a skillet.

Haunting, too, is the memory of sausages and fried apples for supper on a chilly evening. Let the sausages sizzle and spit their juices, and you'll find them as delicious as ever.

Decorate mix up confectioners' sugar frosting. Frost each cooked cookie.

Color about two-thirds of the remaining frosting with green food coloring and the rest red.

Then decorate with Christmas ornaments.

Mrs. H. Lewis Wins First Recipe Prize

The winner! Thursday's winner of the "recipe of the day" contest is Mrs. H. Lewis of Meyerthorpe, for her scrumptious Apple Cheese Crisp.

Mrs. Lewis' tasty apple dish went straight to the top of the list when the easy-to-make recipe was tried and tested. It's a man's favorite... this apple-cheese affair.

APPLE CHEESE CRISP 6 cups cored, pared apples, 1 teaspoon cinnamon or mixed cake spices, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ cup corn syrup, ½ cup granulated sugar, 2½ cups sifted all purpose flour, 1½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cup butter, 1 cup grated onion, Ontario cheese.

Arrange apples in greased shallow baking dish about 10" by 6". Sprinkle with cinnamon. Pour the lemon juice and corn syrup over apples. Combine sugar, flour and salt, and mix well. Mix in the consistency of corn meal. Lightly stir in grated cheese.

Top apples with this mixture. Bake uncovered in moderate oven at 350 degrees for one whole hour. Serve warm with cream. This serves 6 or 7 (sometimes), says Mrs. Lewis.

Of course, says Mrs. Lewis, the success of this dish depends on long baking at moderate or low heat, so the apples are so juicy they fairly melt in your mouth.

"My most prized effort," writes Mrs. Lewis, happened right smack in the middle of thrashing time on the farm... when the Macintosh apples were in.

"I prepared the dish filled up my thirty-year-old wood stove,

New Session Held By NWT Council

Old Ordinances Repealed,
New Ones Are Introduced

OTTAWA, Dec. 2.—(BUP)—The Northwest Territories Council—an eight-man group in Ottawa which administers the territory more than 3,000 miles away—met here yesterday and among other things gave Field-Marshal Montgomery's brother permission to issue marriage licenses.

"Monty's" churchman brother, Canon Colin R. Montgomery, arrived at Ottawa recently to take over the Anglican church there. He may now issue the licenses as well as tie the knots which they legalize.

REPEAL ORDINANCES

The 18th session of the NWT Council, headed by deputy minister and resources minister Keenleyside, who is commissioner of the area, also:

Accepted the offer of a prominent Canadian golf course architect, Stanley Thompson of Toronto, to go at his own expense to Yellowknife and advise residents about setting up a new golf course there. Repealed a list of old ordinances which were outdated.

Gave first reading to 11 new ones.

Gave permission to two companies (Yellowknife Transportation Co., and McAvoy Diamond Drilling Development Co.) to set up radiotelephone communications with their various posts and ships.

The council also appointed four residents of Yellowknife to that community's "trustee board," which has the local powers of a town council to rule the 8,000 local residents. They receive without pay and supplement five others who are elected locally in the same way as councillors for one-year terms.

Members of the North West Territories council, besides Keenleyside who acts in much the same way as a provincial premier, are: H. A. Gibson, who is his deputy and also is director of the lands and development branch of the federal mines and resources department; Commissioner S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police; L. C. Audette of Ottawa, a member of the Canadian Maritime Commission; Air Commodore H. B. Goudwin of the WEAF; J. G. McNeill, a Yellowknife mining engineer; and D. M. McKay, acting director of Indian affairs in the mines and resources department.

Its secretary is J. G. Wright of Ottawa, chief of the Arctic division of the North West Territories and Yukon services.

To insure a good wine crop the Greeks painted red the face and often the whole body of the wine god, Dionysus.

RECOVERING IN CHICAGO'S Children's Memorial Hospital after an operation to correct a "blue baby" condition, two-year-old Margaret Deborn of Danville, Ill., expressed skepticism at Nurse Hetay Husebo's attempt to feed a cloth carrot to a Bugs Bunny doll.

Counterfeit Ring Sought in Europe

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The Danish police said yesterday that they are seeking an international gang which has printed and circulated hundreds of thousands of counterfeit United States $20 bills in Europe. The investigation, police said, had spread to Belgium, Sweden, Norway and Britain.

Two Ships Diverted To Carry Refugees

CANTERBURY, Australia, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Two ships under control of the International Refugee Organization are being diverted to Shanghai to bring out distressed Europeans. The ships, Weaver Victory and Casablanca, recently brought displaced persons to Australia.

Canadian Shorthorn Brings High Price

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(CP)—A championship Canadian breeding Shorthorn bull brought the second highest price—$25,000—yesterday for the treatment livestock auctioneer opened at the 40th International Livestock Exposition.

The 1,200-pound yearling bull was Seaside Bombarrier, owned by S. G. Bennett of Georgetown, Ont., which captured the championship of its class in judging earlier this week. He was sold to Frank Harding, noted American breeder from Waukegan, Wis.

TOP PRICE $25,000

Top price of $25,000 went to an American-bred Shorthorn, Sunset Bomber, which had placed second to Seaside Bombarrier in its competition as reserve champion. It was owned by Ditt A. Carter and Sun, Milwaukee, Ill.

Judging of livestock entries continued in the main arena of the international amphitheatre. But the competition received closer in which Canadian had few entries.

However, Canadian sheep continued to dominate United States flocks and Dominion entrants captured two grand championships.

T. H. Pascoe of Crystal Beach, Ont., won the title of grand champion Oxford ram with a 14-year-old animal while Elmcrest Farms of Ontario, Ont., possessed another grand champion with a yearling Suffolk ewe.

Seaside Bombarrier was one of eight Canadian bulls which sold for an average of $2,015. A. C. McDerrett's Sandman Capistrano, a son of Killeen Monarch, took the title of grand champion of the 1940 Canadian National Exhibition in September.

8 Concerns Interested In Pitchblende Finds

REGINA, Dec. 2.—(CP)—The Saskatchewan Resources Department yesterday disclosed a deal involving eight unnamed Toronto mining concerns and calling for a minimum expenditure of $400,000 in development of the Black Lake pitchblende deposits 400 miles north of Prince Albert, Sask.

Deputy Resources Minister C. A. L. Hugg announced 130 square miles extending along the great fault of the Black Lake strike made this summer had been leased out under special arrangements.

In addition to the block reserved for Roy Tohey, co-discoverer of the deposit, several other blocks of various sizes have been set aside by provincial order-in-council.

Mr. Hugg explained the companies were committed to spend at least $400,000 in development and probably would spend a great deal more if deposits expected were uncovered.

The companies are eligible to stake a certain percentage of their

Tractor Train to Carry To Site at Enmadia Lake

Coast To Get Storm Respite

VANCOUVER, Dec. 2.—(CP)—The weather bureau promised respite today from heavy winds and rain which have been battering the British Columbia coast, disrupting communications and flooding roads and basements.

It would bring to an end high winds which have persisted for three weeks with gales lashing the coast a third of the time. Rain has fallen almost steadily for four days.

Late yesterday all telegraphic communications between B.C. and the rest of Canada was lost for three hours. Heavy snow and high winds near Hope, about 100 miles east of here, disrupted the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Telegraph systems.

In Vancouver Island, the Mox Creek bridge was washed out. Logs in the swirling creek crashed against the bridge, causing a 96-foot section to collapse.

In New Westminster about seven tons of mud and small rocks were washed down the Great Northern depot—located in a cut—crumpling a wall and filling the waiting room and baggage room. No one was injured.

Red Law Student Barred in B.C.

VANCOUVER, Dec. 2.—(CP)—The Vancouver Bar Association Wednesday night ratified the British Columbia benchers' decision to exclude Gordon Martin, Communist law student, from practicing law in B.C.

The ratification put the official seal of approval on the action of the society's selection committee who recently turned down Martin's application on the ground that he was an improper person to be called to the bar.

Martin, an admitted Labor-Progressive party member, had protested the ruling, and said the benchers were discriminating against him because of his political convictions.

T. G. Norris, K.C., raised the issue at the association's annual meeting here.

CANADA'S MOST FAMOUS PIPE TOBACCO

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Liza Minnelli, who trips before the camera in her film debut today, has a better chance for success than most movie newcomers. Her ma is named Judy Garland. Liza is all of 2½ years old now, but don't expect her to become a film favorite quite yet.

"I'd like her to be an actress if she wants to," explained Liza's mother. "If she's still interested when she gets to be about 14, she can go on her own and have her career. I always did. Mother never hovered—and I never either."

Judy told her daughter's camera debut came about: "I didn't want Liza to feel left out. After all, her father (director Vincente Minnelli) and mother both work. They rush off every day to a place called 'the studio.'"

GO ACTING URGE
Liza began to get the acting urge when she watched her mother being fitted with a fancy costume. It broke out into the open when she watched Judy record some songs.

"She sat quietly through the first number. During the second, she began to squirm, and when I finished, she broke into a long, loud—about eight choruses—rendition of 'The Farmer in the Dell.' She just looked straight forward and kept singing."

The first opportunity for Liza came when MGM asked Judy if Liza could take a small part in "Annie Get Your Gun." Judy remembered that the daughters of Ethel Herman and Mary Martin had both played in the stage version, so she answered "Why not?"

SWITCHED FORWARD
The "Good Old Summertime" was switched forward on the Garland schedule and Liza was assigned a walk-through role as the daughter of Judy and Vin Johnson.

Slow Progress Disappointing

Patton Predicted He Would Reach Bastogne First Try

This is a condensed serialization of Dwight D. Eisenhower's "Crossed in Europe," which contains highlights of the book published on Nov. 22, 1948, by Doubleday and Company. Copyrighted by Doubleday and Company. The serialization in the 30 chapters, which will appear daily in The Bulletin—EDITOR.

CHAPTER XXI

North of the break-through three Allied armies and part of another occupied a great salient, extending in a rough semicircle over 250 miles of front. In the extreme north was the Twenty-first Army Group, facing northward and eastward along the lower Rhine and the Mass River. Next to the south was the First Army, now facing southward, which remained north of the penetration.

All the troops that had passed from the First and Ninth Army fronts were being assembled to meet an eastward thrust of the line against the German assault. These two armies could, at the moment, provide no mobile reserves whatsoever. However, an available reserve in Montgomery's Twenty-first Army Group. It was the British 15th Army Group, then out of the line and available for duty anywhere on our great semicircular line in the north, any part of which might be attacked by the enemy.

LINKS BROKEN

The depth of the German advance on the 18th and 19th had broken all normal tactical connections. Bradley's headquarters at Luxembourg and the headquarters of the Ninth and First Armies far to the west were no longer possible for Bradley to give to the attention that I desired and at the same time keep properly in touch with the troops in the north who were called upon to meet the German thrust.

To this situation only one solution seemed applicable. This was to place all troops in our northern salient under one commander. The only way of achieving this was necessary unity was to place Montgomery temporarily in command of all the northern front and direct Bradley to give his full attention to affairs on the south. Late that evening Mr. Churchill telephoned to ask how the battle of the countermeasures after directed and informed him of the temporary command setup. He remarked that my plan would make the British reserve instantly available for use wherever needed, regardless of previously defined boundaries and said, "I assure you that British troops will always dream of honor in order to save battle to their American friends."

The command plan worked and there was generally universal acceptance of its necessity at the time. Unfortunately, after the battle was over a press conference held by Montgomery, supplemented by a number of press stories written by reporters attached to the began again to function with its accustomed efficiency. On the 26th Patton at last succeeded in getting a small column into Bastogne but he did so by a narrow neck along his left flank that gave us only precarious connections with the beleaguered garrison. It was after that date that the really hard fighting developed around Bastogne both for the garrison itself and for the relieving troops.

REVIEW OF 101st Airborne Division was conducted by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Maj. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, commander of the division, during ceremony in which the supreme allied commander presented group with a citation. Review is conducted from jeep.

MADE NIGHT RUN

I had planned to go to see Montgomery on the twenty-third but air travel in the rear areas was still not advisable and travel by road was slow and uncertain. Nevertheless, I decided to make a night run by railway to Brussels and then on to the front. I was immediately upon completion of the conference.

The report was further complicated by the extraordinary fears entertained by the Security Staff that enemy movements were circulating in the area with the hope of killing Montgomery, Bradley, and me, and possibly others.

The reports were astonishing. For several months I had been driving everywhere around France with no more protection than that provided by a single car. The reports were that a change in enemy plans which concentrated his troops in the Bastogne area. The Allied troops on the northern flank used the increasing reports of German planes and on the morning of Jan. 3 passed over to the offensive. In accordance with the plan adopted, the 106th Infantry Division suffered.

On Dec. 31, Patton had established a command post in the town of Bastogne, while on the north the Germans had just been repulsed from a very determined and what proved to be their final major attack on that flank. By this time the garrison at Bastogne was proving to be a serious thorn in the side of the German high command. As long as it was in our hands, the Germans corridor to the westward was cut down to the narrow neck lying between Bastogne on the south and Stavelot on the north.

The French continued to worry about the safety of Strasbourg. On Jan. 3, De Gaulle came to see me and I explained the situation to him and he agreed that my plan to save troops in that region was militarily correct. However, he pointed out that ever since the war of 1870 Strasbourg had been a symbol to the French people of their desire for even its temporary loss might result in complete national discouragement. He brought a letter saying that he would have to act with independence unless I made disposition for last defense of Strasbourg. I reminded him that the French Army would get no ammunition, supplies, or food unless it showed my orders and pointed out to him that if the French Army had to fight the Colmar pocket this situation would not have arisen.

At first glance De Gaulle's argument seemed to be based upon military considerations, founded more on emotion than on logic and common sense. However, to me it was a military matter because of the possible effect on our line of communications and supply which stretched completely across France from the west to the east. I decided to modify my orders to Devers. I told General De Gaulle that I would immediately instruct Devers to withdraw only from the particular railway train, at a given moment, at a given spot in Europe. I told him to keep his men inside and to avoid exposing them to the bitter cold. He agreed in principle, but so greatly impressed was he by the astuteness of the orders he has received that I doubt that I saved any of the men from serious and futile activity.

It was almost noon on the twenty-eighth before I made contact with Montgomery. We agreed that the best thing to do in this situation was to strengthen the front, reorganize units, and get thoroughly ready for a strong counterblow. In the meantime constantly preparing in the heat of any German attack might be launched. We agreed also that if no such German attack was launched Montgomery would begin his own offensive on the morning of January 3.

In the outcome there was no further German attack. The change in enemy plans which concentrated his troops in the Bastogne area. The Allied troops on the northern flank used the increasing reports of German planes and on the morning of Jan. 3 passed over to the offensive. We agreed also that if no such German attack was launched Montgomery would begin his own offensive on the morning of January 3.

In the outcome there was no further German attack. The change in enemy plans which concentrated his troops in the Bastogne area. Moose Jaw Bus Fares Increased MOOSE JAW, Sask., Dec. 2.—(CP)—City council has agreed to a request by the local government board that city bus fares be raised three-for-25 cents rather than four-for-25 cents as formerly. The move called off indefinitely the possibility of the privately-owned Moose Jaw transportation company increasing fares will allow passengers to the employees of 30 employees and other transport workers, had sought an immediate wage increase of 10 cents an hour effective Nov. 1, 1948, and also a 15-cent increase in the basic wage rate of a 13-cent cost-of-living bonus.

Earl Fined $2,000 In Currency Case

LONDON, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Seymour William Arthur John Earl, the 27-year-old Earl of Winton, pleaded guilty and was fined £2,000 yesterday for violating Britain's currency restrictions. The Earl admitted that two years ago he paid £300 to a London agent in return for £40,000 francs that had been supplied him when he ran out of funds on a holiday in France.

The treasury allows citizens to take only £25 out of the country on visits to France.

One of the great breaks of World War II came when General Hodges' III Corps reached the Rhine River at Remagen to find the Ludendorff Bridge still standing. American engineers, using technical information which proved to be faulty, had earlier advised General Eisenhower that he could not make a successful crossing over the Rhine until the first of May. A successful crossing, on a permanent bridge, on March 23 made the end of the war seem suddenly just around the corner. General Eisenhower tells in tomorrow's installment of "Crossed in Europe" how he learned the great news, and what he did at once. He saw the advantage it gave to the attackers of Hitler's forces.
